Dear Sirs;

RECEIVED
MAY 28 2021
POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION

Please do not let Louis DeJoy's reorganization plan become effective. His plan to slow first class mail delivery and raise rates are a disaster waiting to happen. Mail delivery now is slow. My bills arrive usually one day before they are due. My wife and I made countless calls to utilities, banks, credit cards companies to explain when we received their billing statements. It is now common for us to receive mail after 6PM and more increasingly after 7PM most days.

As a retired postal employee of 43 years, I am becoming embarrassed to say I worked for the Postal Service. There are other ways to make the Postal system become better. There are 500,000 employees who have ideas to make the business better. I know, because I was one of them.

Sincerely
David Bohm
