To the Postal Regulatory Commission:

As an American citizen I am writing to express my visceral disgust for the continued presence of Louis DeJoy as Postmaster General. Although he was appointed to destroy our Postal Service, that is not part of his job description. The transparent fact that he now continues his activities for destroying a sacred institution of our country is an obscene insult and a mockery of every American. He needs to be removed today. We did not throw out Donald Trump so we could watch another sociopath, a surrogate of his, destroy something he is too intellectually and morally bankrupt to understand. The man is a walking piece of sewage.

The fact that you continue to tolerate his presence and actions seems to indicate that none of you have the intelligence or integrity required for your positions. Wake the fuck up!

Sincerely,
H. Malhabile
