comments:

The 10% first-class rate increase last year was unprecedented and hurts normal letter writing citizens such as myself. As a Soldier stationed overseas it brings me great joy to receive mail and write letters home. The rate increase last year of 5 cents per letter was very steep and far surpassed inflation. It should be dialed back. A savings of a few pennies per letter adds up over a lifetime of letter writing. I hope you will agree.

Respectfully,
Erik Tomsen
