

I oppose plans to reorganize the US Postal Service. The Post Office was established as a service to the public, urban and rural. The public relies on the US Postal Service for speedy delivery of essential items, including medication and mail-in ballots. Reliable mail delivery is especially crucial to remote areas where post offices are not profitable. It is unconscionable that plans are being made to cut service in pursuit of profit. The US Postal Service is a government agency, not a business.

Thank you.
