POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION

Our first comment and question is, why? Why would you even consider downgrading our Postal Service? Why wouldn't your first consideration be to improve on what we have? The United States Postal Service is the envy of the rest of the world. Why would you listen or consider any proposal that would damage how it functions?

Your mission statement is: vision, guiding principles and strategy.

What vision could possibly allow you to destroy the Postal institution?

Guiding principles, isn't that integrity?

Strategy, what kind of strategy is it to be less than you are?

You are accountable to the United States people in overseeing the operations of our Postal Service. You are charged with the what is best to do in the future for us the public. Not to cow down to the whims of politics.

It is an absolute shame what Postmaster General Louis De Joy has done to the operations of the Postal Service. As the Regulatory Commission you also bear responsibility. Benjamin Franklin our first Postmaster General must be rolling over in his grave. Just the thought of systematically dismantling the Postal Service the way you and Mr De Joy have done so far. Is unbelievable and unacceptable.

Mr De Joy has some new preposterous proposals he is floating your way. Why would you even consider them. Seeing the up coming disaster of those proposals. Your mission statement of vision. Is that vision? The collapse of our Postal Service?

We beseech you to protect our beleaguered Postal Service.

Mr De Joy should reap no benefits or profit from his harmful and destructive proposals. He has done nothing to deserve his six figure salary. He has done nothing to be given praise for job he has done. He is the very principle cause of this current destruction to our Postal Service.

Our Postal Service has it's issues. This can't be denied. Congress needs to take blame for much of that as well. All in all it has served us the public well. We can mail our bills, birthday cards, packages and letters. We know that correspondences no matter the form would always make it to their destination in a timely manner, every time. This is what is called a success. This is a vision, principles, and a great business strategy. This kind of service keeps us the user public happy. Why wouldn't that be your ultimate goal?

Thank you for your time. We hope that your decision on Mr DeJoy's proposals, reflect your concerns for us the users. Remember you are also users of our great Postal Service.

Sincerely

Darryl & Judy Kissinger
