

June 17, 2021

RECEIVED
2021 JUL 13 P 2:34

POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION

Postal Regulatory Commission
910 N. York Ave. NW
Suite 200
Washington, D.C. 20001

To Whom It May Concern:

I am very concerned that Louis DeJoy is still with the USPS. He did a lot of damage by taking out letter-sorting machines and removing mailboxes before the 2020 election. He also has a conflict of interest and never should have been appointed. I would like to see him removed.

The postal services was never intended to be a for-profit enterprise, but rather a service to the American people and businesses. I would like to see it subsidized by the federal government (my tax money) in order to continue the excellent service we have enjoyed in the past.

Even though my husband and I rely on e-mail for many of our communications, we still get prescription medications and many household products by mail and depend on the USPS to bring us personal and business mail every day. I strongly urge the Commission to replace Louis DeJoy and to seek assistance from the government to meet the needs of our postal service, which is vital to all of us.

Sincerely,

(Mrs.) Janalyn K. Lynne
914 Golden Hawk Drive
Prescott, AZ 86301

[REDACTED]

PHOENIX AZ 852

18 JUN 2021 PM 9 L

Postal Regulatory Commission

910 N. York Ave. NW - Suite 200

Washington, D.C. 20001

1-369410

