

Quick Guide to Dockets Database

When you need to revisit a site that is still in your history, all you need to do is left click on the small arrow to the right of the location box and select the entry.

To print a frame, right click in the frame and left click on File in the menu and select Print Frame.

You can open a frame as a new window by right clicking in the frame and selecting Open Frame in New Window.

Home - About the PRC brings you to this default view.

When you click on Contents in the Banner, the left Frame changes to this. ▼ Clicking on Daily Listing will bring you new left and right frames displayed below. You can select a new month by clicking the arrows at the top of the calendar. You can follow the hyperlinks to view/download/print the Documents.

The "+" left of the selections means there are sub-categories which will be displayed if you click on it. Once expanded "-" will appear on the left, meaning you may contract this category by clicking on it.

A new day is selected by clicking on the number in the body. The default view for Daily listing is to show the current date after 12 Noon, and the previous business day before 12 Noon.

10/12/99 - 11/12/99
