Planes Dedicated For Packages.

The U.S. Postal Service® has gained access to fleets of planes specifically designed for expedited delivery. We've teamed with some of the world's most recognized shippers to deliver your packages more quickly and reliably than ever before.

More dedicated cargo space. More teamwork. More reliable delivery.

And don't forget that the USPS® is still the only network that goes to every single address and PO Box in the country, and never charges extra for Saturday or residential deliveries.
