- On page 45, lines 4 through 10,

The same formula is used to calculate the change in the capped contribution, except the volume cap of 550 million is substituted for the after-rates volume when the after-rates volume, in the absence of the cap, would exceed 550 million pieces.

was replaced by

The formula used to calculate the capped change in contribution (again in comparison with the situation in which there is no NSA) is different. In those cases where the before-rates volume is 550 million pieces or less, the after-rates term in the above equation is replaced with 550. In those cases where the before-rates volume is more than 550 million pieces, the before-rates volume in the first term of the above equation is replaced by 550, and the second term drops out of the equation, because with a cap there is no further increase in volume because the discounts would no longer apply.

- On page 48, lines 2, 13, and 20, “witness” was replaced by “Witness”.
- On page 48, line 8, “4” was replaced by “5”.
- Nonsubstantive corrections were also made to footnote numbers, the table of contents, and text formatting.

A complete version of the revised testimony has been filed to replace the version filed on October 19.

Respectfully submitted,

UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE
