Docket No. MC2009-20

NOTICE OF THE UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE OF AMENDMENT TO MAIL
CLASSIFICATION SCHEDULE LANGUAGE FOR NONPOSTAL ACTIVITIES
REQUIRED TO BE FILED BY ORDER NO. 154
(April 26, 2010)

The United States Postal Service hereby provides notice of an amendment to its March 10, 2009 Mail Classification Schedule (MCS) language for nonpostal activities required to be filed by Order No. 154. The change incorporates the current charges for philatelic order fulfillment into the MCS language proposed for the nonpostal Philatelic Sales product.

Attachment A shows the appropriate changes to the MCS language that was filed on March 10, 2009, for the nonpostal Philatelic Sales product. Additions are underlined.

Respectfully submitted,

UNITED STATES POSTAL SERVICE

XXXX Philatelic Sales

XXXX.1 Description

Philatelic items are stamp-related items that support the hobby of stamp collecting. They are intended to be collected by serious, casual and topical collectors and typically include a postage stamp or stamps. Examples of philatelic items include first day covers, ceremony programs, uncut press sheets, framed stamps, binders for storing stamps, stamp yearbooks, and philatelic guides.

XXXX.2 Price

| | |
|--|--|
| All items | Not less than face value of included postage, and not more than face value of included postage plus $300. |
| Fulfillment – Orders mailed to domestic United States destinations | $1.00* |
| Fulfillment – Orders mailed to destinations outside of domestic United States | $6.00* |

* Fee does not apply for philatelic items sent as part of a subscription, in which the customer agrees to purchase a series of philatelic items of a specified type, and establishes a means of payment in advance. Additional charge for custom orders of stamps is shown in Stamp Fulfillment Services MCS section. If a customer requests expedited shipping, then the order will be shipped using Express Mail, with actual postage charged instead of the listed fees.
