Re: Docket No.: R2010-4

Dear Members of the Commission:

It is my understanding that the USPS is approaching the Commission with its hair on fire asking for another rate increase.

I know big boats turn slowly, but before seeking a rate increase, the USPS should immediately enact common sense reforms that should have been enacted 20 years ago. For example:

- End Saturday mail delivery for residential customers.
- Close rural low volume post offices in favor of contracting these services with a local shopkeeper or village clerk. [Have you ever been to Gowen, MI (post office and store), how about Fenwick, MI (post office and store), Palo, MI (post office and store), Hubbardston (post office and store)]. There are five rural post offices within a 10-minute drive to Greenville, MI.

Sincerely,

Thomas A. Ginster
