

September 17, 2011

5519 Co. Rt. 92

Lorraine, NY 13659

Postal Regulatory Commission
901 New York Ave. NW Suite 200
Washington DC 20268-0001

RECEIVED

2011 SEP 29 P 2: 23

POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
OFFICE OF THE SECRETARY

A 2011-101

Dear Commission,

To appeal means to take a case, in this case to stop the closing of the Lorraine NY Post office, to a higher court, tribunal, or authority.

Who I wonder will read this appeal to save our tiny post office, so important to this very rural, winter isolated, economically challenged community? What higher authority may take note that many served by this Post Office will now have a one way 15 mile trip to Adams, the new venue proposed for Lorraine? What tribunal will say, wait a minute, there is a mandate that travel to a post office in America shall be no more than eight miles?

We certainly understand the current financial constraints and the enormity of those facing the U.S. P.S. But the overall problems will not be alleviated by the closing of a small rural post office and a further stripping away of our proud American heritage of which the Postal Service is notable part.

2.

Surely we could all adjust to an end of Saturday delivery causing far less hardship and greater savings.

Thank-you for your kind consideration,

Susan M. Peine

Post Script 9/19/11

It was with joy and renewed hope that this household and many others so concerned received your carefully constructed and well reasoned Appeal for the Lorraine NY Post Office To-day, ready to sign with SASE included.

Everyone likes a compromise, especially one that will work. Well done! Thank-you very, very much.

Yours truly,

Susan M. Peine

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers: Lorraine, NY

Name: Dean F Faine Address: 5519 Co. Rt 92 Lorraine N.Y. 13659

Name: Susan M. Paine Address: 5519 Co. Rt. 92 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Sam Fowler

Address: 22714 Waleville Rd

Name: Elizabeth Creighton

Address: 22714 Waleville Rd

Received

22714 Waleville Rd, Dozerman
2413659

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

If this means I can't get rural service to my mail box, it is unconstitutional. This country forces me to register my guns and you can't have a post office box address. I am an American, and as far as I know ~~and~~ still have the right to "Keep a Bare Arms".

James D. Muhlau

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision. Received

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 27 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name:

Gary J Potter

Address:

P.O. Box 62
2280 County Route 92
Lorraine N.Y 13659-0062

Name: _____

Address: _____

Name: _____

Address: _____

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Steven Fowler Address: 22809 Waterville Rd Lorraine N.Y.
13659

Name: Nancy Fowler Address: 22809 Waterville Rd Lorraine N.Y.
13659

Name: Joshua Fowler Address: 22809 Waterville Rd. Lorraine
N.Y. 13659

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to Assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 27 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: DAN WILLIX Address: 3540 FRINCH SET RD

Name: DAN WILLIX Address: PO Box 63

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Anita DeForest Address: P.O. Box 84, Lorraine, NY 13659
Name: Charles E. J. Forest Address: P.O. Box 84, Lorraine, NY 13659
Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Rochelle Jared Address: 4477 Co Rt 92 Lorraine NY

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 27 2011

Office of PAGR

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Office of PAGR

Name: DAVID D JOHNSON Address: P.O. BOX 94, LORRAINE, N.Y. 13659

Name: Beth Johnson Address: P.O. Box 94, Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 27 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 27 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Kathy Pearson Address: PO Box 115 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Don Pearson Address: PO Box 115 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Received
SEP 27 2011

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Amy Wills Address: 25758 Cty Rt 93
Name: Paul Woodard Address: Lorraine NY 13659
Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to Assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: STEPHEN P. KEALY Address: 26438 C1296, LORRAINE, NY
Name: JULIE A. KEALY Address: Same
Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 27 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: THOMAS E O'DRISCOLL Address: 26583 O'CONNOR RD LORRAINE NY 13659

Name: Altha Rae O'Driscoll Address: 26583 O'CONNOR RD LORRAINE NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Arlene B. Moore Address: P.O. Box 66 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: Bilkey L. Moore Address: 20692 Co. Rt. 93 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Arlene B. Moore Address: P.O. Box 66 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: Bilkey L. Moore Address: 20692 Co. Rt. 93 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Received

SEP 26 2011

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Received

SEP 26 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

VINCENT W. MOORE

V.W. Moore

SUPERVISOR, TOWN of LORRAINE.

PO BOX 56
LORRAINE NY 13659

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

SEP 26 2011

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Office of PAGR

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Jeffrey Strough Address: 20678 County Route 93, Lorraine

Name: Robin Strough Address: 20678 County Route 93, Lorraine

Name: _____ Address _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Donald G. Hess Address: Box 31 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

*If you feel the need to close the Lorraine Postoffice
Please Do So.*

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Cynthia Serrano Address: 21268 Rt 189 Lorraine NY 13659
Name: Lorraine Palmer Address: 21268 Rt 189 Lorraine NY
Name: _____ Address: _____
13659

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated. Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision. SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Jean Shelmedice Address: 20939 Co. Rt. 93 Lorraine N.Y.

Name: Paul Spivorene Address: 20939 Co. Rt. 93 Lorraine N.Y.

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: MERIANNE SHELMI^{INE} Address: 21350 Co Rt 189
LORRAINE, NY

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2000

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Timothy C. Putman Address: 25904 Oconnor Rd Lorraine
13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: ROBERT WEIKEL Address: 7520 CO RT 95 LORRAINE NY 13659

Name: SHIRLEY WEIKEL Address: 7520 CO RT 95 LORRAINE NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Stanley Holland Address: Po Box 68

Name: Ida Holland Address: Po Box 68

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to Assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Byron I. Fowler Address: P.O. 109 Lorraine N.Y. 13659

Name: Angela Haynes Address: P.O. Box 109 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Byron I. Fowler Jr Address: P.O. Box 109 Lorraine NY 13659

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Christina Shelman Address: PO Box 82 Lorraine NY
Name: James Shelman Address: PO Box 82 Lorraine NY
Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

13659
13659

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Carl A. Deady Address: PO Box 27 Lorraine N.Y.

Name: Hwy Supt. of Hwy. Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2001

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to Assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: FRED BRUND Address: 2597 Co. Rd 93 LORRAINE, NY 13659

Name: BETTY GOULD Address: 25197 Co Rd. 93 LORRAINE, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address _____

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

MILITARY MOVING INTO AREA

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Jo-Anne Brown Address: 5115 Co Rt 92 Lorraine

Name: Kimball Brown Address: 5115 CR #92 LORRAINE

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2001

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Barbara A. Crowell Address: 20808 Cty Rte 93 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Charles Jay Crowell Address: 11

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Alb E. Nily Jr. Address: 6130 Co. Rt 95,
Name: Linda S. Sisley Address: Lorraine, NY 13659
Name: _____ Address: Town of Worth

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Norman Paradis Address: 3656 County Rte 95 Lorraine

Name: Camille Paradis Address: 3656 County Rte 95 Lorraine

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision

Received

We appreciate your time and consideration.

SEP 26 2011

US Postal Service Customers:

Office of PAGR

Name: Debra Kanoek Address: PO Box 93 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Brian Schock Address: PO Box 93 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration

Received

SEP 26 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

Sept. 20, 2011

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Ainda Chapman Address: 25093 County Rt. 93, Lorraine NY 13659

Name: David T Chapman Address: 25093 County Rt 93 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2001

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Laurie Beckstead Address: 20771 Cort 93, Lorraine N.Y.

Name: Vernon Beckstead Address: 20771 Cort. 93, Lorraine, N.Y.
13659

Name: _____ Address _____
13659

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Received

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Lorraine Vol. Fire Co Inc Address: PO Box 89 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Roger A. Newell Address: P.O. BOX 112 LORRAINE NY 13659
Name: Sharon A. Newell Address: P.O. BOX 112 LORRAINE NY 13659
Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Jozette Barvmann Address: 25569 co. rte. 93, Lorraine, NY

Name: Jason Gordon Address: " "

Name: _____ Address _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Cheryl Erickson Address: 21929 Waterville Rd
Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Shannon Hutchinson Address: 21929 Waterville Rd
Lorraine NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Some of us need to have our mail held during the winter because our mailboxes get hit by the snowplows & power

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

if we pick up our mail everyday during winter months driving to Adams would cost way too much in gas

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Received

SEP 26 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: William Stone Address: 20719 Cte Rte 189 Lorraine NY
PO Box 114 13659

Name: Jean Howell Address: 20719 cor Rte 189 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Randy P. Hanson Address: 21037 Co Rt 93 Lorraine NY 13659
Name: M. Diane Hanson Address: 21037 Co Rt 93 Lorraine NY 13659
Name: Sean T. Hanson Address: 21037 Co Rt 93 Lorraine NY 13659
Megan A. Hanson 21037 Co Rt 93 Lorraine NY 13659

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Donald Roberts Jr

Address: 4185 Co RT 92 Lorraine, NY

Name: Mary Roberts

Address: 4185 Co RT 92 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____

Address _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: George Cedar Jr Address: PO Box 88
20931, CorTe 189 Lorraine NY
Name: Brenda Cedar Address: PO Box 88 13659
20931 CorTe 189 Lorraine NY
Name: _____ Address: _____ 13659

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2008

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Kevin H. Walton Address: 6020 County Rte 92, Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Susan P. Walker Address: 6020 County Rd. 92, Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to Assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Kelle Petrie Address: 7955 Hayes Rd Lorraine NY 13659
Name: Anthony Petrie Address: 7955 Hayes Rd. Lorraine NY 13659
Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Received

SEP 26 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Suzanne Chapman Address: 22229 Co Rt 189 LORRAINE NY
Name: Kenneth D Aubry Address: 22229 Co Rt 189 LORRAINE NY 13659
Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision. SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Irene Erickson Address: 21821 Co Rt 93 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc.

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

Received

We appreciate your time and consideration.

SEP 26 2011

US Postal Service Customers:

Office of PAGR

Name: Mark J. Shelmidine Address: P.O. Box 4 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 26 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Gayle Seymour Address: P.O. Box 117 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: Frank E. Seymour Address: P.O. Box 117 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Beatrice E. Bates / Wife of Frank E. Seymour Address: P.O. Box 117 Lorraine, NY 13659

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Cheryl Overton Address: 23653 Co. Rt. 189 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 26 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision. Received
SEP 28 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Marion J. Devore Address: 21108 County RT. 189
Lorraine, N.Y. 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration

Received

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Received

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

SEP 28 2011

We appreciate your time and consideration.

Office of PAGR

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Leahy Newton Address: 20871 County Rt 189, Lorraine
Name: Mrs Old Newton Address: 20871 County Rt 189, Lorraine
Name: Jean Newton Address: 20871 County Rt. 189

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision. Received

We appreciate your time and consideration.

SEP 28 2011

US Postal Service Customers:

Office of PAGR

Name: Gordon W. Harman Address: 25131 Cty Rt 93 Lorraine, NY 13659

Name: _____ Address: _____

Name: _____ Address: _____

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Office of PAGR
22399 Wisteria Rd
LORRAINE NY 13659
Name: David M Bigelow Address: 22399 Wisteria Rd
Name: Kim M Bigelow Address: SAME
Name: David A Bigelow Address: SAME

Received

SEP 28 2011

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.

TO: POSTAL REGULATORY COMMISSION
901 NEW YORK AVENUE NW SUITE 200
WASHINGTON DC, 20268-0001

FROM: POSTAL PATRONS OF LORRAINE, NY 13659

RE: APPEAL OF CLOSURE DECISION FOR THE LORRAINE, NY
POST OFFICE

TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

On behalf of the residents in the Town of Lorraine, NY and the Town of Worth, NY we wish to request an appeal regarding the decision to close the post office located in Lorraine, NY, established April 21, 1805.

As residents and postal customers we are well aware of the financial bind facing the USPS and readily acknowledge that serious changes are necessary. However, we strongly believe that abandoning rural America with respect to window service is not the answer.

We would propose the following as a compromise solution that should be strongly considered and tried prior to the complete discontinuation of window service.

1. Provide window service on a part-time basis. (1/2 day every other day)
2. Operate the service with a clerk under supervision of the Adams P.O. which would eliminate the need of a postmaster
3. Maintain postal boxes in an enclosed area (lower rent based on lower heat requirement for part-time service?)
4. Arrange for 24 hour access to boxes (no cost)
5. Daily delivery and collection (no change except that the delivery carrier could collect outgoing mail instead of a special pick-up as is the current system)

Based on revenue figures supplied by the USPS the current revenue level of this office would cover the cost of this service. In this scenario this rural office would no longer be receiving a subsidy from larger offices and neither would the rural customers in Lorraine be subsidizing other offices, which would be the case if the office was completely eliminated.

Attached please find additional and expanded reasons to re-evaluate this decision.

We appreciate your time and consideration.

US Postal Service Customers:

Name: Brandon M Pooler Address: PO Box 69 Lorraine NY 13659

Name: Dennise Pooler Address: PO Box 69 Lorraine N.Y. 22376 Cort 189

Name: _____ Address: _____

Received

SEP 28 2011

Office of PAGR

ADDITIONAL AND EXPANDED REASONS TO RE-EVALUATE THE DECISION REGARDING THE LORRAINE, NY P.O.

1. POPULATION GROWTH

The Town of Lorraine has an 11% increase in population in the 2010 Census over the 2000 Census.

2. USPS ABANDONING FULL SERVICE IN RURAL AREAS

Recent articles in the print media as well as on news websites and TV make it very clear that the USPS is undertaking a mass closing across the country to save money. No one can argue that the postal system must undergo a major restructuring to provide a system of mail delivery with a reasonable price tag in this age of digital communication. However, there does not seem to be a long range plan of restructuring service delivery except to strip rural areas of small offices that are currently not at a break even level. In Lorraine the closure will add 10 miles (roundtrip) to any trip to the post office. For about one half of the 150 rural route customers this will make a round trip to the post office a 14 to 22 mile drive.

Current closures are targeting offices w/o postmasters. This is simply a situation that exists because the USPS has chosen not to appoint a postmaster for months or years at their discretion.

It is fair to argue that small offices are not cost effective. The question to ask is "Can these offices be restructured to have revenue cover expenses?" It is reasonable to assume that some can and some probably cannot. Small rural offices could be run with a clerk under the direction of a postmaster in a larger neighboring office, thus avoiding the higher pay classification of a postmaster. Also window service at most rural offices could be run on a part-time basis so that some level of local service could remain.

If the thousands of rural offices are closed as planned the revenue from these customers will be subsidizing continued service to the other areas while doing without service themselves. This seems to be a type of discrimination and rather unfair. Re-structuring delivery levels and modes to ALL customers is a much more appropriate move to address the current challenges.

3. EXTRA MILEAGE BURDEN

To suggest that all residents will always be able to take care of all postal needs whenever they are out and about in another town is not at all realistic. If the 240 customers served by the Lorraine post office find it necessary to make just six (6) extra trips to a post office per year for package pick up or mailing, money orders, etc. this would require an extra 14,000 miles of travel with significant expenses and fuel expenditure as well as time over the year. The 6 extra trips is probably a low estimate and at the IRS mileage rate (55.5 cents/mile) this would be a local customer cost of nearly $8000. A part-time service would most probably eliminate this additional customer burden.

(OVER)

4. LIMITED ON-LINE ACCESS FOR SERVICE

Currently the USPS is advertising on-line service. Unfortunately about 200 of the customers live in an area that is limited to dial-up service which is not very user friendly. Cell phone service to the vast majority of the customers is not available due to the distance from transmission towers. On-line service is not a viable alternative for this area.

5. EQUITY OF SERVICE DELIVERY

Within a 20 mile radius of the Lorraine P.O. there are 4 situations where offices exist with 1 mile to 3 miles between offices. In closing any one of those offices the maximum drive would be less than for Lorraine customers and in some instances fewer people would be impacted.

Two townships, the Towns of Lorraine and Worth, with eighty two square miles of area would be without a post office. The neighboring town of Henderson has a similar population base, a smaller area and two post offices just over a mile apart. The Town of Ellisburg has a similar area, about 2.5x the population, and after closing an office will still have 3 offices left, two of which are about one mile apart. The Town of Sandy Creek has two offices within a mile of each other.

The USPS needs to look at a re-structuring plan that takes equity into account for all citizens not just those in more populated areas.

6. POPULATION INCREASING

The Town of Lorraine posted an 11% population growth from the 2000 Census to the 2010 Census. There has been a steady increase in new homes and seasonal dwellings and this appears to be continuing based on recent land sales.

7. PROPERTY VALUE IMPACT

Any real estate agent will testify to the fact that availability of "services" impacts the value of property in an area. Although the loss of window service may not have a great impact on property values it is sure to have some negative impact. A couple of years ago a new resident in town related how great it was that they could walk to the post office. Any potential property buyer that is eliminated as such, due to limited services available, reduces the buyer pool and has a negative impact on property values.

8. POSSIBLE BUSINESS LOST

A prominent businessman from Clayton, NY has said that he always felt the building that is home to the Lorraine Post Office is the perfect location for a small mail order business due to the post office location. This obviously would be a plus for the community and the USPS as well. Since the talk of the possible post office closing discussion and exploration of this possible option has ceased. A postal operation at least on a part-time basis would allow this discussion and exploration to re-surface. It may be a long shot, but it would provide an option for a currently idle facility and generate revenue for the USPS.