

Comments on Terminal Dues

I am a small business owner who sells antique postcards online. 99% of my sales are sent as letters or small packages via the USPS. I am definitely put at a competitive disadvantage when it costs much less to send items from China to the United States than for me to mail items from my business in California to my customers in the United States due to Terminal Dues. I strongly request a level playing field with comparable postage costs for foreign sellers. Thank you for considering my input.
